Women figured to an unusual degree in crimes in the last twenty-four hours in this city and environs. One woman was arrested charged with taking part in a holdup.

Due to the extraordinary number of women prisoners recently it became necessary to open an additional dormitory at the State Reformatory at Bedford.

Jersey Mayor Gets Offer of Case of Rye in Mail

ELIZABETH, N. J., June 17.—Mayor Victor Mravlag refused to consider himself an object of good fortune upon receipt of a letter in to-day's mail offering to let him have a sample case of pure Canadian rye at $18 a case of twelve quarts with delivery guaranteed. The communication was addressed to Dr. Victor Mravlag at the Mayor's residence in East Jersey street, indicating that the sender did not know it would be delivered to the city's chief executive. It was a mimeographed circular possibly sent to thousands of other persons. The Mayor said it seemed to be a scheme to defraud, rather than a bootlegging undertaking.

by Patrick Brennan of 423 West Forty-ninth street, who said he, and his wife had been robbed in their apartment by two men who used the flapper as a lookout. They escaped in an automobile, which they had left in charge of the young woman.

Brennan was aroused early in the morning by the two men closing the door of his apartment. They had taken a gold watch and chain valued at $50. The police later arrested Philip Sheridan, 19, of 434 West Forty-ninth street in the case.

Invited Into Robbery, He Says.

Charged with robbery and having acted as a decoy for five men who robbed Joseph Miller, an underwear salesman of 521 West 134th street, of $850, Mrs. Ethel Gold, 24, a hairdresser, living at 622 West 125th street, was held in $1,000 bail in the Washington Heights court. Miller said he had gone to Mrs. Gold's apartment at her request to make a sale, and that as she opened the door for him five men stepped out from a shadow and held him up, taking the $850. Then they locked him in the apartment and left with Mrs. Gold, he said.

Victoria Shiba, 18, Portuguese waitress at the Colon Coffee House, 21 Atlantic avenue, Brooklyn, told Miguel Somba, also a Portuguese, that she had a husband which she must divorce before she could marry him. Somba fired two shots at the girl, one striking her in the right shoulder and the other in the neck. The girl is in the Holy Family Hospital in a serious condition and Somba is being held by the police on a charge of felonious assault.

Somba told the police he had proposed marriage to the girl after meeting her two weeks ago and had given money to her to buy a trousseau. When he found the girl had a husband he lost his temper, he said.

Girl Robbed of Rings.

Rose Reissin, 19, of 2652 Valentine avenue, The Bronx, was held up early in the morning in the vestibule of her apartment by a man who had followed her for several blocks. He took her two rings, which she valued at $2,000, and $60 in cash, and after ordering her to make no outcry escaped. Miss Reissin said the rings were gifts from her mother. Major Amos T. Baker, superintendent of the Bedford Reformatory, opened a twelfth dormitory, known as Turner Dormitory, which had been closed for more than two years. Several other buildings are available for dormitories should the rush of women prisoners increase. In the fourteen months in which Major Baker has been in charge at Bedford the number of prisoners there has doubled.

CRISSINGER ADVISES AGAINST PRICE ADVANCE

Says Such Movement Would Be Unfortunate.

AUGUSTA, Me., June 17.—Warning against any general effort to raise the prices of necessities which the mass of consumers must buy was sounded here to-night by Comptroller of the Currency Crissinger in an address before the Maine Bankers Association. There have been manifestations of a tendency of late, he declared, to advance prices in directions "where they could reasonably be considered a bit premature."

"Such a movement," Mr. Crissinger said, "I feel would just at this juncture be likely to prove untimely and to bring unfortunate consequences. I am quite familiar with the fact that in general the tendency is to buy on a rising market and to sell on a falling market. But that does not by any means assure that business is bound to get good when prices are getting lower."

"The great buying and consuming public is not going to be brought into the market by the cheerful program of asking it to pay higher prices when it has already proved unable to pay lower ones."
